Software Engineer with an HCI and UX design background, experienced in owning front-end implementation for large-scale web and mobile products. Skilled at turning complex interaction ideas into accessible, polished user interfaces using React and React Native.

EXPERIENCE

Software Engineer, full-time | Warner Bros. Discovery (HBO Max), Remote | 11/2021 - Current

Lead implementation of key UI features and systems for HBO Max using React Native and React, focusing on accessibility, interaction quality, and scalable cross-platform interfaces.

Partner with designers to translate complex interaction concepts into performant, production-quality interfaces used by millions of users.

Resolve critical production issues impacting UX quality and platform stability; participate in intern interviews to support engineering hiring.

Incorporate AI-assisted workflows to accelerate prototyping, UX implementation, and product iteration.

Software Engineer, contract | eBay, Bellevue, WA | 09/2019 - 06/2021

Developed reusable React-based UI experiences and internal tooling that supported large-scale marketing and experimentation workflows across eBay surfaces.

Collaborated closely with designers, PMs, and backend engineers to rapidly iterate on user-facing experiences and interaction flows.

Built scalable frontend modules and data visualization interfaces supporting marketing experimentation and campaign analytics.

UX Designer, contract | John Deere, Moline, IL | 12/2018 – 07/2019

Designed UX/UI solutions for embedded systems used in John Deere Combine products, collaborating across teams to improve usability for global customers.
